Northwestern Then . . .

The Health and Physical Education Department at Northwestern has been teaching canoeing for decades. This photograph of Chaplin's Lake shows Normal coeds in 1931 receiving instructions in canoeing. A new beach and waterfront pier were opened on Chaplin's Lake in the summer of 1931.

. . . and Northwestern Now

Water sports have grown in popularity, and Northwestern is recognized as an educational leader in water safety, water sports and boating. Pictured are students sailing on Sibley Lake, where the university has built a new marina for instructional and recreational sailing, canoeing, water skiing, swimming and other aquatic activities.

THE COVER: Homecoming is Nov. 16, and much of the excitement of Homecoming at Northwestern revolves around football. The cover pictures Demon football teams of 1915 and 1974, presenting sharp contrast over the six-decade period. Northwestern alumni from every era will want to attend this year's Homecoming.

Thousands of Alumni Await Homecoming Nov. 16

WATSON LIBRARY at Northwestern has initiated a program which makes it possible for students to borrow reproductions to decorate their dormitory rooms or living quarters. The art pieces were purchased through the NSU Foundation. Admiring one of the paintings are Ed Dranguet, president of the Foundation, and two Northwestern coeds. Alumni who desire to make a contribution to the Foundation for the library program may do so by using the Alumni Information form on the back cover.

Campus Arboretum Established

The first phase of what is hoped will be a major face-lifting job on the campus will be underway shortly when trees and shrubs on the main campus will be identified, mapped and labeled.

This activity comes after President Kilpatrick declared the campus to be officially designated as an arboretum. An anonymous donor has contributed $1,200 to the NSU Foundation in support of this project.

Our campus has a tremendous variety of woody plants already established. These trees and shrubs greatly enhance the natural beauty of the campus and also serve as an outdoor laboratory for several classes on campus. We hope the student body and alumni will take pride in this and other proposed projects which are related to campus beautification.

Alumni wishing to financially support this and other projects dealing with campus beautification may contribute through the NSU Foundation. Use the alumni information form on the back cover.

Homecoming Receptions Scheduled

Homecoming 1974 at NSU will be a special time for getting reacquainted with the contemporary Northwestern collegiate scene and, most of all, with old friends.

This year, the University is making classmate reunions easier by hosting alumni mini-receptions grouped by graduating years. Each specially-designated reception room in the Student Union will be a gathering point Saturday afternoon for a different decade of Northwestern Alumni.

Seven receptions will be held simultaneously, with separate receptions for the following graduates: Pre-1920 and 1920, 1921-1930, 1931-1940, 1941-1950, 1951-1960, 1961-1970, and 1971-1974.

Make Homecoming, November 16 a must on your fall calendar. Hasn't it been a long time?

"Ninety Years of Tradition: Foundation for the Future" is the theme of Homecoming, 1974 scheduled for November 16 on Northwestern's campus. Ten thousand alumni and friends are expected to return to the campus and the football game between Northwestern and the University of Southwestern Louisiana which will conclude the day's activities.

Again this year, Homecoming is a family affair. Alumni and friends of the university are invited to bring their entire family. Highlighting the day's activities will be a parade which is scheduled for 10 a.m.

Registration begins at 8:30 and continues throughout the day in the lobby of the Student Union Building. Free recreational opportunities for children will be provided, including bowling, pool, foosball, color television and other activities.

During the 7:30 p.m. football game at Demon Stadium which will highlight Homecoming, this year's Homecoming queen and court will be presented, and the NSU Demon Marching Band will present special pre-game and halftime performances.

The Graduate N Club will conduct Hall of Fame induction ceremonies at the game, and a new and exciting Northwestern singing group, The Entertainers, will perform during Homecoming events.

A new feature this year will be alumni receptions by years of graduation. Assigned to various rooms in the Student Union Building for coffee hours between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. will be graduates by decades of the 20's, 30's 40's 50's 60's and the 70's.

Of special interest to alumni this year will be the honoring of retired professors who have been known and loved by graduates through the years. All retired faculty members are invited to be guests of the Alumni Association at the luncheon scheduled for 12:30 in the Student Union Ballroom.

"Ninety Years at NSU" is the title of a historical display in the Louisiana Room of the Library. The Louisiana Room will be open during the day for alumni visitation. Alumni visiting for Homecoming will be able to have the evening meal with the students in the cafeteria and attend a pep rally from 5:00 to 6:30.

Tickets for the luncheon and evening meal will be available upon your arrival to the campus. Luncheon tickets will be $3.00, and supper will be $2.25. Football tickets will be on sale during the day in the Student Union Lobby for $3.50 each.

Make your plans now to come to Natchitoches for Homecoming at Northwestern State University on November 16.

Alumni President's Message

by Parker Wiggins

I am proud to be a part of the ninety-year tradition of Northwestern which is, as our Homecoming theme for 1974 indicates, a good foundation for the future of our school. There is a growing spirit of enthusiasm and dedication among Demons everywhere.

I invite you to join us in this program to make certain that Northwestern continues to maintain the reputation of excellence that has characterized the past nine decades.

November 16 is a big day. Homecoming this year looks like it is going to be the biggest and best ever. Mark that date on your calendar and plan to join your old friends for a wonderful day of fellowship, reunion and fun.

I want to commend Dr. Kilpatrick and his staff for involving alumni more than ever before in the life of the university. Everyone with whom I have talked is ready to work together to help our academic, athletic and other programs achieve new levels of competence.

Bring your family with you to Homecoming on Nov. 16. I will see you there.

Ask The President

by Dr. Arnold Kilpatrick

How is the enrollment this year at Northwestern and what is being done to communicate educational opportunities at Northwestern.

I am happy to report that the enrollment at the University is just about the same as last year. Despite earlier predictions that there would be a decreasing number of freshmen this year, our incoming new students number approximately 1,000. Our recruitment program for this year is greatly accelerated. You may read elsewhere in this issue of the Columns about our External Affairs operation. This program of public relations and promotion of Northwestern involves alumni very crucially in the matter of student recruitment and general promotion of your Alma Mater.

Kilpatrick

AS A RESULT of alumni and friends of Northwestern making generous contributions to the NSU Foundation, 10 students are studying at NSU with financial assistance. Many of the students would be unable to obtain their education without your help. On behalf of the students, we thank you. Among students who have received alumni scholarships are, from left, Jennifer Karr, Shreveport; Debbie Davis, Jonesboro; Mary C. Lemoine, Mansura and Jacqueline Paul, Deville.

PROJECT TOP REPORT

by Joe Traigle

After one year of Project TOP, Northwestern's program to involve alumni in the promotion of our Alma Mater, I am happy to report some of the achievements that have been realized.

Traigle

Over 4,000 names have been added to the alumni mailing list. Contact with alumni is one of our most urgent needs. Please send the Alumni Office any names of people who are not receiving the Alumni Columns.

Six hundred alumni and friends of NSU made tax-deductible donations to the Foundation. These gifts were designated for various projects, all of which could not have been realized without your help. Over $30,000 was donated by these friends of the university.

Northwestern Clubs and alumni social activities have been conducted in every urban area and many smaller cities. During the coming year more clubs will be organized and you can take the leadership in getting it done.

President Kilpatrick tells me that the enrollment looks good this Fall and this is largely the results of alumni support. Radio and television commercials and bumper stickers have been distributed all over the state as a part of Project TOP's effort to keep Northwestern before the public, alumni, prospective students and legislators.

Keep up the good work. This year will be even better with your help. The new year's program will be kicked off at Homecoming, November 16, and I hope to see you there.

Locating Alumni

Looking for Alumni! If you know any Northwestern alumni who are not receiving the ALUMNI COLUMNS, please send us their names and addresses. Use the Alumni Information form on the back cover.

Student Recruitment

Every alumnus is a recruiter. Write Prospective Student Services at the university or call 357-4414 to tell us the name and address of high school students who are interested in attending NSU.

Alumni Services Part of External Affairs

A new office has been created at Northwestern to coordinate all external affairs of the university. Included in the Office of External Affairs in alumni services, prospective student services and the NSU Foundation.

Dr. C. B. Ellis, assistant to the president, has been named by President Arnold Kilpatrick as director of the Office of External Affairs.

Kilpatrick said, "Northwestern is entering into an extensive program of promotion and public relations. One of the most important ingredients in a successful effort to interpret NSU to the public is active alumni. Northwestern Clubs are being organized all over Louisiana as well as outside the state. Our alumni will be working more than ever before with university officials in student recruitment and general promotion of their Alma Mater."

Randy Moffett, who has served for the past year in High School Relations, has been named assistant director of External Affairs. According to Moffett, "The 515 high schools in Louisiana will be visited by Northwestern representatives during the year. Northwestern alumni who serve as principals, counselors and teachers in high schools who are willing to help the university's effort to recruit students are urged to write or call the Office of External Affairs."

Ellis said, "It is obvious that a new spirit exists at NSU among the entire Northwestern family, including faculty, students and alumni. This new spirit is going to be used to help us tell the general public, prospective students, alumni, political officials and others about our university. We invite you to become a part of this exciting program."

Catherine Winters Scholarship Begun

A scholarship has been established at Northwestern in memory of Miss Catherine Zimmerman Winters, long-time NSU professor who died Sept. 25 at the age of 86.

Friends and former students of Miss Winters may contribute to the scholarship fund, which will be used to provide financial assistance for outstanding history majors enrolled at Northwestern.

Widely-known in Louisiana educational circles, Miss Winters was a teacher from 1908 until her retirement in 1954. She served as professor of history at Northwestern from 1926 until the time of her retirement.

She is survived by her sister, Mary Winters, also a teacher on the NSU campus for a number of years.

Alumni Groups Being Organized

Two different sub-organizations to the Northwestern Alumni Association have been organized. The Student Personnel Association has just formed an organization of alumni called SPAAN (Student Personnel Alumni Association of Northwestern). This group of alumni will have a special meeting on Homecoming Day, November 16.

The College of Nursing is sponsoring the organization of Nursing Alumni of Northwestern State University. A committee of Nursing graduates is now writing the by-laws for their organization. Plans are being made for special activities.

Any group of alumni who graduated in special areas of study such as Business, Sociology, Education, etc. may form such a sub-organization. If you are interested in obtaining information, please write the Alumni Office for assistance.

Such organizations can render a significant service as well as enjoy fellowship with students who studied in the same department or college.

NSU ATHLETIC COUNCIL IS EXPANDED

Expansion and the realignment of Northwestern State University's Athletic Council, the athletic department's policy making body, has been announced by NSU President Dr. Arnold R. Kilpatrick.

Dr. Robert Alost, one of six members of the old athletic council, will serve as chairman of the new council and will represent the College of Education. Named as ex-officio members were Athletic Director George Doherty and Jerry Pierce, director of informational services.

Joining Dr. Alost, who is head of the Health and Physical Education Department, on the 10 member voting council is one other holdover from the old council, Dr. Leo Allbritten, dean of the graduate school, who will serve a one year term on the new council.

Others named to one-year terms are Rodney Harrington, president of the student body, and Parker Wiggins of Monroe, who is president of the alumni association.

Dr. C. B. "Lum" Ellis, assistant to the president in charge of external affairs, will represent alumni and placement and is one of three members serving three-year terms. The others are Dr. John L. Hix, representing the College of Business, and Dr. Austin L. Temple, a mathematics professor.

Appointed to two-year terms were Jack Freeman, coordinator of university activities who will represent the non-academic staff, Barbara Moffett of the College of Nursing and Marion Nesom of the College of Liberal Arts.

Mrs. Moffett and Mrs. Nesom become the first women members in the history of the NSU Athletic Council.

"The athletic council will now be more representative of all facets of the university community," Dr. Kilpatrick said.

Northwestern State University football games are broadcast on radio in six cities in North and Central Louisiana this fall, according to an announcement by NSU's Dr. C. B. Ellis, assistant to the president in charge of external affairs.

Originating station for the "Northwestern Football Network," which is the first network in NSU's history, is KNOC Radio in Natchitoches.

Other stations on the network for at least six games are KRMD-FM in Shreveport, KDBS-FM in Alexandria, KWLA in Many and TelePrompTer Cable Television in Leesville. KRSU in Ruston also carried the Northwestern-Grambling game on Sept. 14.

Handling the play-by-play for the network is veteran Norman Fletcher, known as the "Voice of Northwestern." Fletcher has done NSU games on the Natchitoches radio station for 20 years, including 17 consecutive seasons.

Joining Fletcher at mikeside is Lynn Rollins with color. Rollins, a 1971 journalism graduate of Northwestern, is a former sports director of KALB-TV in Alexandria and is known for his voice on football broadcasts.

Substituting on the broadcast from time to time will be Pesky Hill, NSU sports information director.

"Northwestern alumni and other NSU supporters in the area are responsible for this network," Ellis said. "We have thousands of people who will be able to follow the Demons closely on the network that couldn't last year".

Ellis added that the football network will enhance both the athletic program and the overall university image.

State Fair Game, Homecoming Set

Northwestern will challenge defending NCAA Division II national champion Louisiana Tech on Oct. 19 in Shreveport's State Fair Stadium and host the University of Southwestern Louisiana Nov. 16 in NSU's Demon Stadium in two games that all NSU alumni must make plans to attend.

The NSU-USL game Nov. 16 is the Demon's annual Homecoming. Activities have been planned throughout the day for NSU alumni and their families.

Another NSU home game is Nov. 23 against Southeastern Louisiana University.

Herron Resigns As Demon Aide

Jack Herron, a young man who was instrumental in turning around Northwestern State University's basketball program, has resigned as the Demon's assistant basketball and head golf coach.

Herron, a 29-year old former Oklahoma State University basketball star, was largely responsible for recruiting NSU's current wealth of talent in basketball. The Demons won the Gulf South Conference title in 1974, posting a 21-9 record enroute to the District 30 NAIA title and a second round berth in the NAIA National Tournament.
